The Secretary
Ministry of Land Management, Cooperatives and Poverty Alleviation
Government of Nepal

27 January 2025

FIG Working Week 6-10 April 2025 at Brisbane Convention Centre, Brisbane Australia

We are pleased to invite representatives from Nepal for the FIG Working Week 2025 (www.fig.net/fig2025), a conference that will take place in Brisbane, Australia, from 6 to 10 April (pre-events starting from 4 April).

After the successful completion of the FIG Regional Conference held in Nepal in November 2024, attendance from Nepal to the Working Week 2025 would be a natural follow up on the Call to Action and other outcome of this conference. FIG acknowledges the ministry's significant and important support in convening this FIG Regional Conference 2024 and its successful outcome. We do therefore request the Secretary to nominate interested officials within the ministry who wish to participate (at their own expense).

A special FIG Director General Forum is organized for our affiliate members and it would be a pleasure to extend the invitation to the Ministry of Land Management, Cooperatives and Poverty Alleviation of Nepal, too.

The FIG Working Week 2025 is proudly hosted by the International Federation of Surveyors (FIG), in collaboration with our local hosts, Geospatial Council of Australia and will be held together with the national Australian event Locate 2025. The event will be supported by many of the FIG Partners including the United Nations and its structures, the World Bank and other Professional partners. Around 1,500 participants from 80-90 countries are expected.

The theme of the FIG Working Week 2025 is to Champion what is unquestionably a Digital Generation. For surveyors and geospatial experts to remain relevant and maintain our international impact we will need to be collaborative, innovative and our actions be sustainable in the face of the climate imperative. In the context of international trends, conference discussions will focus on the foundational issues across Political, Economic, Social, and Technological environmental trends.

Since 1878, FIG has been organizing conferences for surveying, geospatial and related professionals. FIG is not just any organization; it is the premier international body championing the interests of surveyors and geospatial experts and advancing the profession on a worldwide scale. As an UN-recognized non-governmental organization, FIG represents more than 120 countries, connecting and fostering the growth of surveying and related professions.

This is an invitation to participate in the FIG Working Week 2025, but not a letter to obtain visa. A special visa letter will be sent separately upon registration. You will need to secure your own funding for travel, registration and accommodation expenses.

We hope to see you and look forward to welcoming you to Brisbane. Further information: www.fig.net/fig2025
